New Central Board Approves Committee Chairmanships

The 1960-61 Central Board, under the presidency of Paul Ulrich, approved ASMSU committee chairmen and members for next year.

The deadline for applications for ASMSU committee members was extended until next Tuesday, because of the limited number of applicants so far, John Datsopoulos, vice president said.

All committee chairmen are expected to meet with their committees before the end of the quarter, Ulrich said.

Deadline Extended

Judicial Council members will be appointed next Monday evening. The deadline for applications was extended until the end of the week. The council members required include three men and three women of junior standing next fall, one male senior and a secretary, Bob Connole, former J-Council chairman, said.

Central Board delegated Ulrich to confer with President Newburn on the selection of faculty advisers for the coming year.

By-Law Changes

Three by-law changes were approved concerning the formation of a Radio and TV committee apart from Hometown News Committee, a coordinator of student membership on student-faculty committees required to report to Central Board, and the placing of Visiting Lecturers Committee as a whole on the student-faculty Public Exercises Committee.

Committees Appointed

New committee chairmen and members include:
Budget and Finance—Virgil Bon, chairman; Sandra Orr, Harold Gilkey, Carolyn Ruth, Diane Davis, Lawrence Spezio, Thomas Farrington, Archibald McCallum, David Browman, Jim Johnson, and John Montegna.

Activities Board—Barbara Wheeler, chairman; Sharon Blaszek, William Lensing, Bryce Meyer, Lynda Westrum, Lee Proctor, Anne Bartlett, Jane Thomas, and Joe Porter.

Homecoming Committee—Marlys Nelson and Jack Griffith, co-chairmen; Claudia Hunt, Helen Dwell, and Gayle Hageman.

International Students—Carol Cooper, chairman; Sara Rankin, Kitty Gleason, Donna Nordeen, and Rich Martin.

Elections Committee—Ed Whitelaw, chairman; Ted Schoenborn, Corinne Collier and William Lensing.

Leadership Camp—Harold Gilkey, chairman; Patricia Hagan, Wayne Goetz, Boone Sparrow and Elma Knowlton.

M-Book Committee—Mary Lou Montague and Elma Knowlton, co-chairmen; Barbara Bell.

Planning Committee—Jim Johnson, chairman; Tina Bohlinger, Ellen Sheire, John Carlson and John Ulvila.

Public Relations—Jerry Agen, chairman; Jane Borden—Hometown News; Dave Browman—Campus Visitation; Dorothy McBride—Travel Fund Coordinator; Carol Spaulding—Alumni Relations; Don Hetherington, Felicia Hardison, Sara Stedman, Helen Cain, Marcia McDonald, and Wayne Jensen.

Publicity Committee—Helen Dwell, chairman; Doug Grimm and Karen Murdock. Publications Board—Frank Walsh, chairman; James Dullenty.

Traditions Board—Denis Adams, chairman; Joan Carpenter, Jennine Funk, Dale Haar, Janet Hall, Bill Ferguson, Judy McIntyre, and Wayne Jensen. Visiting Lecturers—Jacquie Gibson, chairman; Marie Stephenson, Sheila Roffler, and Louise Johnson.

World University Service—Marcia Holmes, chairman; Jan Frederickson.

Botany Professor Receives $5,700 For Plant Study

A $5,700 grant for the purchase of a "growth chamber" has been received from the National Science Foundation by Dr. Otto L. Stein, assistant professor of botany.

A growth chamber permits radiated plants to be grown under controlled conditions. In this way the effect of radiation on plant growth may be pinpointed, Dr. Rueben A. Dietert, chairman of the botany department, said.

Conditions controlled by the growth chamber are light, humidity and temperature.

Dr. Stein was recently granted $12,870 by the Atomic Energy Commission to continue studying the effect of radiation on plants.

Writer's Conference Panel To Be First Session Today

The Eleventh Annual Writer's Conference opened yesterday with the introduction of the staff members by Jack Barsness, conference director. Registration for the conference had reached 34 by 5 p.m., Mr. Barsness said. This is the first year that the Writer's Conference has been held spring quarter instead of during the summer. This was done, he said, to enable more interested University students to attend the conference.

Mr. Barsness said that 19 of the 34 registered were University students from MSU, MSC and Northern Montana College.

Today's session begins at 9 a.m. with a panel discussion of "The Magazine Market Today: Non-Fiction Articles." Dale White, Dorothy M. Johnson, James Stevens and Jack Barsness are the panel members. At 11 Naomi Lane Babson will lecture about "Juveniles."

The afternoon session at 1 will feature Dale White speaking on the same subject. The rest of the afternoon will be taken up by workshops and individual conferences.

Nelson Bentley will speak at 8 p.m. in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge about the "American Poetry and the New Northwest Romanticism."

The highlight of the Conference will be the banquet tomorrow night at 6:30 in the Territorial Room of the Lodge, Mr. Barsness said. The speaker will be James F. Stevens. He will speak about "The Tall Tale and How it Grew."

'Evening of Ballet' to Feature Three Original Compositions

The fourth annual "Evening of Ballet," tomorrow and Saturday, will feature three original ballets, Mrs. Marnie Cooper, instructor in ballet and director of the production, said.

The performances are scheduled for 8:15 in the University Theater. "The Ugly Duckling," based on a story by Hans Christian Anderson, was written by Mrs. Cooper and will feature 75 dancers from the University Ballet Theater, high school and the Children's Ballet Theater.

The title role will be played by Kathy Wilson, an 11-year old dancer who has studied ballet for four years. Other principal dancers will be Louis Garcia and James Frach, University students; and Peggy Haugen, Nancy Senechal, Gerrie Hashasaki and Norman Preston.

Douglas Bankson, assistant professor of drama, wrote "The Waterwitch." The title role will be played by Preston, a Missoula high school sophomore.

"Mr. Magoo, Private Eye," also written by Bankson, is based on a Mr. Magoo cartoon and will feature jazz music. James Polk, a senior in English, will take the title role.

Richard H. James, drama instructor, is the technical director and designer of the production. Mrs. Ray Halubka is in charge of costumes, and Mrs. Robert C. Harris made arrangements for the children's costumes.

The music for all ballets was selected by Mrs. Cooper, and Erling Jorgensen, director of the University Radio and TV studios, taped it.

The principal dancers will also include Sandy Swank and Marta Sanford. Other members of Ballet Theater who will dance are Dick Willis, Lee Barron and Phil Dougherty.

Ike Suggests U.S., Russia Keep Talking

In a nationwide television and worldwide radio speech last night, President Eisenhower said businesslike negotiations with Russia must continue, particularly on disarmament and a nuclear test ban and contacts must be improved with the Soviet people despite the summit collapse.

"The path of reason and common sense is still open if the Soviets will but use it," he said.

The President strongly defended the U-2 flights over the Soviet Union and said they had produced "remarkable" results.

He urged his proposal that the United Nations undertake international aerial reconnaissance flights and offered American planes and equipment, including the U-2, for any open skies system set up under U.N. auspices. He said America's major goal was a world of "open societies."

He displayed on TV screens a 20 by 24 inch photograph of a San Diego, Calif., naval installation made from an altitude of 70,000 feet—operating altitude of the U-2.

Before unveiling the picture, Eisenhower said he ordered U-2 flights over Russia stopped before he left for the summit because the plane incident definitely had impaired the usefulness of such flights.

University Library Receives Valued Collection From Wren

A collection of books and copies of original documents valued at over a thousand dollars was presented to the University Library Tuesday evening by Melvin C. Wren, professor of history.

Dr. Wren made the donation through the Friends of the Library, a student-faculty-Montanian group interested in promoting the University library's needs and in securing aid for it.

Dr. Wren said the collection numbered some 200 volumes and documents. He added that the collection dealt primarily with English social, political and economic history but included many works on Russian history including works in the Russian and English language.

The documents, which make up about half the collection according to Dr. Wren, are copies of original 16th and 17th Century documents now in British museums and private collections. He added that they too dealt with English history of the period and were written by scholars not necessarily well known except to students of the period.

Dr. Wren said that he acquired most of the books and documents by rummaging through bookshops in London.

The Friends of the Library also announced Tuesday that a committee with Jacob Vinocur, assistant professor of English, as chairman has been formed to publicize the group's activities.

Gary Beiswanger, student director of the group, added that the group plans to print plates to stick in the books donated to the library through the group. He said that the group plans one more meeting and a progress report before the end of the school year.

To Save a Buck

Information, dull and unreadable, can often cut costs for students getting an education.

For instance, how many understand what grant-in-aid is? If you have better than a 3.0 grade average, you can apply, and may be exempted from paying activity fees amounting to $40 per quarter.

How many out-of-state veterans realize that when the 36-month G. I. Bill payments run out, they are exempted from non-resident fees. This amounts to $87.50 per quarter.

The problem is how students find out about these cuts. Very little is said in the catalog. For veterans, they need a Philadelphia lawyer to understand government hand-outs. Of course, anybody can go to the Registrar's office and get answers, but who ever thinks to ask until it is too late?

We might suggest the Registrar's office undertake writing a simplified hand-out with this type of information briefly stated. Current scholarships might also be included.

It would be a big job, but there is a long summer ahead, and we feel the students should be given every chance to save a buck.

Why All the Rumors?

"Rumors from the rumor mill." These seem to be keeping our campus going. How many times have you heard the policies and rulings of MSC's administration via the second hand route?

The most recent of these rumors to raise the hair on the student's backs concerns the banning of Freshmen-owned cars. Stories ranging from "no cars at all" to "all dorm residents will have to hoof it from now on" came up in bull sessions all over the campus.

Instead of waiting for President Renne to issue the college's official stand on the matter, it was taken for granted that the car ban was in effect.

The truth of the matter is that freshmen will be allowed to keep cars on campus.

Another story which has been making the rounds lately concerns the residence status of sophomore men. Dean Val Glynn recently circulated a feeler on this subject, and as a result of this, it is now believed that all sophomore men will be required to live in the dorms.

The truth of the matter is that sophomore men will not be required to live in the dorms.

These are only two examples of the misconstrued facts which keep the students in a constant state of mistrust of the administration. Does this type of thing happen only periodically at MSC? If one looks around, he can see it in action anytime.

Why do rumors persist? It seems to be some basic desire of humans to hear and spread stories which point out someone as a scapegoat. If we did not have the administration to blame for our failings, bull sessions would be dull indeed.

We would be in much better shape if we would check the facts behind the stories before we pass them on, adding our own gripes to the list.

13th Banquet Will Honor Grads Today

Graduating seniors and outstanding undergraduate students of the business administration school will be honored tonight at 7 at the 13th annual awards banquet in the Lodge.

A program after dinner will include introduction of new members of Beta Gamma Sigma honorary fraternity, entertainment by the Jubileers, and presentation of awards.

Awards to be presented will include the Wall Street Journal Achievement Award, Montana Society of Certified Public Accountants $200 Junior Scholarship, Montana Bankers Association $250 Junior Finance Scholarship, Montana Building and Loan League scholarships of $200, $125, and $75, Montana Motor Transport Association $125 Junior Scholarship, Hugh D. Galusha Sr. Award, UBEA-Smead Award, Phi Chi Theta Key Award and $25 scholarship, and the Alpha Kappa Psi Key and Distinguished Service Award.

The banquet is sponsored jointly by the business administration school, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Phi Chi Theta, professional business fraternities for men and women, respectively.

Special invitations to the banquet have been sent to the Business Advisory Council of the business administration school. Members are Charles Anderson, Douglas J. Dundas, and John S. Rice of Great Falls; Huntley Child Jr. of Gardiner; Clark K. Fergus, Russell B. Hart, Joseph S. Sample, and George M. Washington of Billings.

Other members are William J. Fogarty and Colin W. Raff of Butte; Hugh D. Galusha Jr., Norman J. Holter, S. H. Kemp, Robert B. Richardson, and Kenneth P. Todd of Helena; Sumner Gerard Jr. of Ennis; Robert B. Mountain of Miles City; Richard D. Rubie of Havre; and John H. Toole of Missoula.

Morris to Discuss Marshall Awards With U Students

R. W. Morris of the British Embassy will be on campus tomorrow to meet with students and discuss the Marshall scholarships. He will be in LA 101 from 2 to 3 p.m., Gordon Castle, prof of zoology, said yesterday.

Winners of Marshall scholarships may select any university or college in the United Kingdom. The scholarships will be for two years with a possible renewal for an additional year.

Students will receive yearly stipends of 550 pounds for tuition fees and 50 pounds for books and travel. Married students will receive an additional 200 pounds per year. A pound is worth about $2.80. Students will also receive travel from place of residence to place of study.

Applications are due Oct. 31. Applicants must have a bachelors degree and not be older than 24 years. Study may be in any field. Twenty-four scholarships will be awarded in the United States.

At 3 p.m. in BE 209, Mr. Morris will discuss recent development in education in the United Kingdom.

Utah State Stops Grizzlies With Nifty Putting Display

Sharp putting, climaxed by a 20-foot putt on the 18th hole, paved the way for a tight 10-8 conference victory for Utah State University over the Grizzly golfers at the University links yesterday afternoon.

With the match at stake, USU's Mark McKenzie, a classy left-hander, dropped a perfectly spotted 20-foot putt on the final green to clinch the victory. McKenzie had played cool, steady golf all afternoon.

Ed Chinske, Grizzly golf coach, commented midway through the matches that putting would determine Montana's final match in Conference play. He said that Utah State annually produced some of the Skyline's finest putters.

Medalist honors in yesterday's matches went to USU's Mike Sweet, who was McKenzie's partner, and Montana's Ted Hodges and Jim Bryngelson who posted scores of 74 for the afternoon. Par for the course is 72.

In team play Bryngelson defeated USU's Bill Glover 3-0. Roger Norgaard tied Merlyn Jensen 1½-1½, Hodges tied McKenzie 1½-1½ and Sweet defeated Ray Maidment 2½-½, shooting four birdies in a row in the first go-around.

In exhibition play USU's extra men Randy Esley and Howard Morgan defeated Fred Jewel and Bill Hodges posting scores of 76 and 80 to 76 and 84.

This weekend the Grizzly golfers move to the Missoula Country Club for the Skyline Championship matches. Chinske said he had yet to pick the four-man team to represent the University, but added that the remaining two members of the squad would seek individual honors in the matches. Chinske said that Utah State would be one of the teams to beat in the weekend playoffs.

Last weekend Ted Hodges put a keener edge on his game by posting a 145 in 36 holes to win the Montana-Canadian golf tourney in Great Falls.

Annual I-M Meet Begins Today at 3

Members from seven teams will be sent huffing and puffing after honors in the annual intramural track meet at 3 p.m. at Dornblaser Field.

Fraternity and independent contestants will be competing in 12 track and field events, all regular contests except the high and low hurdles. Ed Chinske, intramural director, said the hurdles had been dropped from the meet this year because of the lack of attendants to set the hurdles on the track.

Chinske also said men are needed to help judge and time events in today's meet. He said two physical education class absences could be made up by helping with the officiating.

The Clods, an independent team, and Sigma Chi won their respective divisions in last years meet. The Clods totaled 25 points for first place in the A-League and SX finished with 24½ to finish 8 points ahead of second-place Phi Delta Theta in the Fraternity League.

Two intramural records were set during the meet in 1959. Ron Sax of Sigma Nu smashed the old discus record, 123 feet, with a 155-foot 6-inch toss. A 148-foot 10-inch javelin record, set by Ed Berquist in 1955, was bettered by William Skelton of the Clods with a 161-foot ½-inch effort.

The following records will challenge the participants today when they open the meet:

100-yard dash, 10:2; 220-yard dash, 23:6; 440-yard dash, 54:5; 880-yard run, 2:10.3; mile, 4:57; shot put, 40 feet 11 inches; high jump, 6 feet; pole vault, 11 feet 7 inches; broad jump 20 feet 2 inches and the 880-yard relay 1:40.

Chinske said that contestants would be scratched from their event if they were late. Track shoes will not be allowed.

Free Mixer Friday Night To Feature Bork's Band

A free mixer Friday night in the Cascade Room of the Lodge will feature the music of Bob Bork's Big Band.

Arrangements have been made through the ASMSU Dance Committee, according to Skip Meyer and Dick Austin, co-chairmen of the committee. The Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians Union Local 498 will sponsor the mixer.

Modesto Meet Set for Milers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—To the little All-American city of Modesto, Calif., last official population 16,379, this week comes the United States' finest "battle of the century" in the mile run.

It's Herb Elliott, the king of the milers from Australia; Dyrrol Burleson, the top hope of the United States after his brilliant 3:58.6 a month ago; and Laszlo Tabori, ex-hungarian, who is returning to condition after a 3:59.6 minute mile before he fled from his native land four years ago.

This trio heads up the finest field ever put together in this country for the "magic mile."

Great Also-Rans

And pushing them will be such greats as Jim Beatty of the Santa Clara Youth Village, who beat Burleson for the national AAU indoor championship in New York; and Bill Dellinger, ex-Oregon ace.

So why is a show like this being staged in a little city like Modesto?

Nineteen years ago Tom Moore, one-time U.S. hurdles champion while running for University of California, had a brain-child. He wanted to put his home town of Modesto on the map as a track and field town. He got the chamber of commerce to support him.

Today the California Relays rate as one of the top attractions in their field in the country. They attract the top stars from around the world.

Higher and Farther

The pole vault on Saturday, for instance, has drawn world champion Bob Gutowski, Don Bragg of Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Ron Morris, all 15-foot men.

The shot-putters will include two 60-foot-plus stars in Bill Nieder and Jay Silvester.

The 100-yard dash races include the king of the sprinters, Ray Norton; Doug Smith, skinny Occidental college youth who beat Norton at the West Coast Relays two weeks ago; Roscoe Cook, the Oregon flash; Dave Styron of Northeast Louisiana State. In the 440 it will be Glenn Davis, the Olympic champion and other stars.

And so it goes. The elite of the track and field world come to Modesto under the magic wand waved by Moore.

Nearly half of the citizens living within the city limits will jam the 9,000-seat Modesto Junior College stadium for the big event. They will be the chosen few.

But millions more around the world will read about the feats of the world's greatest stars—running and jumping in Modesto, Calif., which for one night becomes track and field capital of the world.

Golfers to Invade U for Loop Meet

Upwards of 50 Skyline golfers will be at Missoula's Country Club this weekend for the conference championship meet.

Last year's winner, New Mexico, is an out-and-out favorite to repeat in the 36-hole medalist contest. But, Ed Chinske, Grizzly golf Coach, is not counting out Denver, Utah or Utah State. Chinske also said he was optimistic about seeing his divot-men climb out of the league cellar. He said their play has improved during the past two weeks.

He said Montana will have the advantage of familiarity with the course.

Each Skyline school is allowed a team entry of four men while others from the same school may seek individual honors.

SENIOR TEA TO BE JUNE 4

A tea for all graduating seniors and their parents is being planned by AWS social committee and ASMSU Student Union Committee, according to Sharon Blaszek, social committee chairman.

The tea, which will be staged for the first time this year, will be held in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge on Saturday, June 4, following the Lantern Parade, she said.

They hope to make it an annual activity because they believe it will fill a gap in the graduation program, Miss Blaszek explained.

UN Council Majority Finds Soviet's Complaints Trivial

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —A majority of the Security Council was reported agreed yesterday that Soviet complaints about U.S. spy planes were trivial in the light of the new American Midas II satellite.

U. N. sources predicted a 7-2 vote against Russia in its demand that the United States be condemned for the "aggressive acts" of its air reconnaissance teams, with Ceylon and Tunisia abstaining.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge pushed for a verdict so the 11 nation council could take up President Eisenhower's new plan for an "open skies" inspection system under U.N. control.

The Midas "spy-in-the-sky" satellite, hurled into orbit from Cape Canaveral Tuesday, was known to have a key role in the plan, which would subject strategic areas of the world to constant surveillance, thus guaranteeing all nations against surprise attack.

Italian Ambassador Egidio Ortona appeared to sum up majority opinion in the council Tuesday night when he said the U-2 issue "would appear to have lost most of its significance in view of the performance of the satellites."

ASMSU Extends Application Date

The deadline for ASMSU committee applications has been extended to 5 p.m. Tuesday, John Datsopoulos, ASMSU vice president said today.

Blanks are available at all living group houses and at the Lodge. Present members who wish to remain on committees must re-apply. Completed applications are to be left with the living groups or at the Lodge.

Datsopoulos said he had not yet received enough applications to fill all committee positions.

Applications for Student-Faculty committee members are also available at all living groups and at the Lodge, Datsopoulos said.

A limited number of vacancies exist on the following committees: Honors Program, Library, Museum, Schedule Board and Student Employees, Campus Development, Religious Center, Student Health, and Radio-TV, a newly created sub-committee of Public Relations.

Corvair 700 4-Door Sedan

Besides wringing extra miles from every gallon, and besides stacking up as 1960's outstanding car—look what else Corvair has in store for you. The smooth-as-butter ride you get from independent suspension at all four wheels. The increased traction that comes with the engine's weight over the rear wheels—where it should be in a compact car. A practically flat floor, a folding rear seat, five jaunty models, including the new Monza Club Coupe.
